

CHICAGO PALE ARRESTED.

Habbed for an Old Burglary Just as He Was About to Sail for South Africa.
Central Office Detective Sergeants Arkin and Beckley arraigned before Judge Cowing in General Sessions, Chambers, yesterday Paul Sibley alias Chicago Paul, who is said by the police to be a notorious crook. He was arrested on the Bowery on Friday as the Central Office detectives learned that he was about to sail for South Africa. The search of his clothing showed a ticket for Liverpool by the steamship Umbria which sailed yesterday. He had another steamship ticket from Liverpool, England, to South Africa. In his pockets were $150 in greenbacks, $120 in gold, ten sovereigns, and a $50 note. The burglar committed first and a half hour at Seven street and First avenue. He was identified yesterday at the headquarters by a little boy, who said the burglar, James Peeler, who assisted Sibley in the burglary was arrested, tried, and sentenced to two years in State prison. John Cowing committed Sibley to the Tombs.
